

Training

On-site, practical training will be provided to groom in-house, knowledgeable staff that can ensure:

- that the fire system's integrity is safeguarded
- that it can sound an alarm and suppress a fire condition should the need arise
- that required checks taken are updated in the designated logbook, as mandated by the manufacturer and applicable legislation.

A hands-on test will be conducted after the practical training is completed, and a certificate will be issued if performed successfully.
